Scope and limitations

Field names only: private values are not reproduced in this report. Color profiles and display orientation are preserved. Embedded provenance credentials are removed from the exported copy; keep the original for its verifiable history.

Metadata may mention AI software or prompts, but removing it does not remove invisible pixel watermarks or statistical patterns. External provenance records may remain discoverable. This report does not certify human origin or undetectability. Information visible in the image and hidden data outside supported metadata are not removed.
